Murder Raids On Main Towns

ONE OF THE MOST FEROCIOUS PLAYS OF INDISCRIMINATE BOMBING THE WAR HAS YET PRODUCED, AND COMPAR-ABLE TO THE DESTRUCTION OF ROTTER-DAM, WAS CARRIED OUT ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON BY GERMAN AIRCRAFT OVER CRETE.

Waves of aircraft rained down heavy bombs on the island's three chief towns, Canea, Retimo and Heraklion (Candia), for six hours without any pause, from 2 o'clock to 8 in the evening.

These heavy bombs were sown carefully in rows across the centres of each town. The shopping! centres were completely wiped out.

Yet the population remained admirably calm and there were relatively faw casualties.

SCIENTISTS FIND NEW TREASURES

As their part in helping to win the war, scientists in the laboratories of the Imperial Institute are putting the Empire under the microscope. They are discovering new treasures in its soil and strange new uses for its known resources.

Government and industry, needing war materials or substitutes, constantly seek their aid. inud from British Honduras, oil from the Falkland Islands, cintiamon batk oil from the Seychelles, and fragments of rock from Sierra Leone, Uganda, Burma and Guiana. Deeply these scientists ponder over seeds and roots, pigs' hair and honey, gunis and raisius and a thousand other specimens.

Any one of their researches may yield results of vital moment to the prosecution of the war, or a great industry may arise.

Sir Harry Lindsay, director of the institute, has issued a report of many pages which, for all its formal language, is as comantic as the story of the voyages of Capt Cook,

Investigations by the mineral resources department have resulted in a satisfactory expansion of inter-Empire trade and a substitution of supplies formerly bought from foreign and enemy countries. This department examined no fewer than 1,884 samples during the year, and its intelligence section answered 1,715 inquiries.

Because of the present shortage of certain drugs, the Institute has paid particular attention to the cultivation and preparation of medicinal plants growing in South Africa Kenya and Southern and Northern Rhodesia.

It has introduced to interested firms tobacco grown in Jamaica and an oil, distilled from the leaves of a tree growing in Kenya, which may soon be used in soap perfumery.

One lump rock was sent from Eire. The finder thought it might contain cobalt. There was actually no large proportion of cobalt, but it was found to consist largely of copper ore, lead ore and, possibly, zinc ore, and it was considered that the deposit might be worth exploitation.

GUERILLAS TAKE TOLL IN YUGOSLAVIA

(By A "New York Times" Correspondent) THE SERBIAN GUERILLA komitajis are still holding out against the German and Italian armies in Yugoslavia, waging a bushwhacking war in the night against enemy stragglers, couriers and isolated patrols in the mountains of Montenegro and Central and South Serbia and within the environs of desolate Belgrade itself.

Despite the German and Italian concentrations of more than five divisions in North, South and Central Serbia, Macedonia and Dalmatia, the war Sandor has left his wife

who carried with them huge mountains. quantities of ammunition and firearms, granades, and even a few batteries of mountain guns into diplomats and nationals were the mountains of Montenegro, captured by the Italians on April Serbia and Herzegovina.

when their government had flown to Greece by British and Yugoslav 'planes from Risanj Niksich, intended to join the komitajis and carry on their war to exact a last ounce of revenge against the invaders and maintain the apparently unquenchable spirit that inspired the coup of March 27, overthrowing the Cvetkovitch government, which surrendered at Vienna to the Axis.

Disorder Reigns

That Serbs are carrying on the war is specified in the disorder and disorganisation that reigns in Italian-dominated Albania and in the lighting after nightfall in Serbia,

In Belgrade itself, where death is the penalty for venturing into the bomb-blasted city after 7 p.m., there is a dally mounting toll of German dead and wounded.

There is a higher toll of Serbun lives each day in retaliations tor the Germans execute ten. sometimes twenty, for every German soldier killed, but that does not stop it.

Upon her back was chalked the time of her death: "8:15." As far as could be learned this woman was a harmless creature caught after deadline atop the Dedinje Hill en route to her home and running. She was unarmed.

The Germans, It seems, rarely get the Serbian komitajis who are nightly shooting or knifing every German who ventures away from the protection of hundreds of Nazi machine-gunners posted throughout the city at 7 o'clock.

Italians Woo In Vain

The Italians in the south-west do little shooting and are still vainly attempting to woo the Dalmatians and exiled Serbs into something like friendship with the troops of occupation. The socalled Croat Guard, attired in dark greenish-brown uniforms and carrying rifles and revolvers, enery out most of the police work after nightfall. The Croat Guard's weeding-out process of countless arrests and questionings, executions and imprisonments have so far failed to_make a dent in the operations of the komitaji.

Now that Croat and Bosnian fifth columnists have come out openly with the invaders there are no more of the fatal leakages that caused the Yugoslav Army nn estimated 35,000 men and when communications were shattered the first day of the war, led to the downfall of the government, the capitulation of the General Staff and the armistice.

PLAN FOR SLAVERY

The German design for a new economic order in Europe is becoming clearer. Its principal object is to ensure that the bulk of the European industries shall be in German hands, giving the Reich a virtual monopoly in the production of armaments. Where this can be obtained by incorporating existing industries on Germany's! fringes the Reich will be expand-Ted to include them. Farther affold, all important industries, with the deposits necessary materials, communications, and ports, are to be brought under terman financial control. The Town Planning Acts have not been a success. Not a single town in all the thirty years they have been in force has had an approved compulsory town-plan; they have all been held up by the question of compensation wherever buildings have to be built according to plan and whenever land value is thereby reduced.

Compensation is always unavoidable where there are demolitions. Therefore, if planned reconstruction is to be made possible, the first essential step is that there should be a universal valuaately. Otherwise the cost will exceed all possibility of payment. And the valuation should be commenced now, so as to be ready for reconstruction.

The committee which Lord Reith has set up to examine the question of compensation for bombed sites, with a view to stopping land speculations, will, it is hoped, point out the necessity for

To show what it costs when it comes to paying compensation for land values, the case of Charing | Cross Bridge may be recalled.

The scheme for the building of much-needed bridge wa abandoned in 1930 on account of the expense, which was estimated at £16,865,000.

Of this sum, £11,122,000 was to go on land purchase and compensation for easement and permanent rights all representing land values.

The cost of the bridge itself. Including the pulling down of the buildings, the construction of approaches, alteration of the Embankment and other improvemients, was estimated at only

Had the bridge been built, the improvements would have enhanced the value of all the land in the vicinity, so that all adjoining landowners would have benefitted still more. And land values are much lower at Charing

U.S.A. "SHOULD FIGHT AXIS NOW

PRESIDENT JAMES B. CONANT of Harvard, speaking over a nation-wide radio hook-up on the subject "When Shall America Fight?" declared that

"considering only the best interests of a free United States, the hour for action is at hand," and bluntly answering the question put by the title of his address, said "I believe we should fight now."

Discounting the likelihood "that the English island will be immediately overrun," the Harvard president said the blockade by the German U-boats, raiders and air force has been "all too effective; more damaging perhaps that we have yet been told."

Conant was his first call for actual crity will be combined with an beligerency, although, as a pointed out in his address, he has been from of those who have nerestently advocated this nation's formal process of the process

He again expressed himself as many will face defeat. "amazed" by the point of view, that the war may be ended in a negotiated neace, and declared that "no British Government that could possibly come to power will! make peace with Hitler." The people of Britain, he continued, mean the eventual enslavement of every man, woman and child

The contention that, even without a negotiated peace, the war will soon be over and "we have only to stand aside and let England be overrun." he denounced as "a black counsel of despair. "Leaving uside the question of whether or not such an attitude does credit to the spirit of a free and self-respecting nation," he continued, "I believe the basis of the argument to be wrong. It is founded on the assumption that we would let England fa'l, the British fleet surrender, and make no move.

"Let us imagine that, after a sudden display of technical as wellas numerical superiority in the air, the Germans do succeed in finally invading England. To be sure this seems to me an extremely remote possibility.

"Or alternatively, let us imagine that the blockade, after another six months, has reduced Great Britain's military effectiveness to the point where invasion becomes possible. This contingency is not remote. In either case would the United States than take the view that the subsequent history of the war was no affair of ours?"

Sentiment Of People

Polls, he continued, have shown that the country is overwhelmingly in favour of having the country become a naval belligerent rather than let the British lose.

"The conclusion seems to me inevitab'e," he said. "Unless we are willing to yield control of this this country must sooner or later fight. Unless the United States is prepared to shape its philosophy to that of the totalitarian States through a pact of mutual understanding, we shall eventually be forced to defend our freedom by acts of war. The isolationists are living in a world of wishful thinking when they imagine the struggle may soon be over."

Giving some hints of what he had learned in England, the Harvard head said "a successful invasion of Great Britain in my opinion would not terminate the struggle, but rather remove the FINED £10 action. to our shores." Then he went on to outline the chances for ultimate victory.

Mr. Anthony Hawke, prosecuttory, a whole nation has declared ing, said that on January 14, a as its ideal a democratic republic girl called Rita gave Shatter a imessage. As a result he went to the Bennetts' flat. Mrs. Bennett, who was in a dressing gown, in-[vited him upstairs to Bennett's studio. The only light in the room? came from an electric heater.

"Then" said Mr. Hawke, "the light flashed on and the door was pushed open and in came Mr. -Bennett carrying a sword-stick.

"Tenuous" Negligee

"He drew the sword, pointed it at the chest of the startled Mr. Shatter and sald. 'What are you doing here with my wife?' Mr. Hawke added that at that point Shatter noticed that Mrs. Bennett's dressing-gown had be-la rather "tenuous" negligee. Bennett told Shat er to takedown a document at his dictation.

"In consideration for Kenneth Bennett's discretion in remaining silent of any knowledge of misconduct with his wife, Constance. I agree to pay the sum of £250 in five equal payments of £50."

Shatter gave evidence and in cross-examination denied that he was undressed and forced Mrs. Bennett back on the divan.

"What About A Kiss?"

Bennett, in evidence, said he. was a singer by profession. When he switched on the light he saw Shatter, who appeared to be grasping his wife. Bennett said Shatter, said: "In have given way to a moment's passion." Mrs. Bennett said a light was on in the studio. Shatter put his arm around her and said: "What's about n.kiss?"

ITALIANS TURNED BAGGED GUNS ON WOUNDED

(By A Special Correspondent) AN OFFICER AND A DRIVER FROM SOUTH WALES WERE BADLY INJURED IN 20 MINUTES OF THE MOST DESPERATE FIGHTING I AM EVER LIKELY TO SEE.

Alexander Clifford, of the "Daily Mail," and myself, the only uninjured men in our party, were just able to bind the men's wounds and crawl with them to safety. Others were killed, and half a dozen injured in the same action.

WIFE'S CONTRACT FOR HOUSEKEEPING

Businesslike Mrs. Leland O'Cal laghan, of Atlanta, Georgia. sued her husband for failing to pay her the amount of house keeping money "as stipulated in a contract at the time of our marriage." Mr. and Mrs. O'Callaghan had a friendly breakfast together in their home before appearing in court each represented by a lewyer, to fight own the suit. Mrs. O'Callaghan waved before the Judge, a contract signed by herself and her husband in which he agreed to pay her £50, a month for running their home. uwhen von nut your signature to that contract you signed aureur all your rights as head of the household," the Judge told the husband.

He ordered Mr. O'Callaghan to pay his wife all the arrears.

A NAZI

A fighter pilot took off recently on a local weather survey, and less than half an hour later landed back at his station, having shot down a Dornier 17 into the North Sea.

He was twenty-three-year-old Squadron-Leader R. S. S. Tuck, leader of the Burma Squadron, Fighter Command, holder of the D.S.O. and D.F.C. with bar, This was his twenty-second confirmed victory.

"I had gone up to test the weather," he said. "While I was up I had word that an enemy aircraft was off the coast. I sighted him about seven miles ahead. It was a Dornier 17.

LONDON'S TRANSPORT 'TROOPERS'

Each of the 78,000 bus and subway drivers, conductors, clerks and others employed by the London Passenger Transport Board is a "shock trooper" in the embattled British capital.

The Transport Board, as is the case with main-line railways! throughout Britain, has been con- i trolled by the Government since the beginning of the war. It has smove been responsible for the evacuation of 607,000 children from the City without a single mishap, and Calcutta for the provision of accommodation for 124,000 persons in subways and other deep air-raid Dairen shelters, according to the Board's Foodbow activities during the first 18 Harbin months of the war.

In this connection, the Board Prosecuting solicitor said that thus erected bunks, installed sanifor which carry heavy traffic by day and serve as community by night. In

CRICKET'S GREATEST TACTICS ACCUSED OF HITLER

WILLIAM J. O'REILLY, world's greatest cricket bowler, stands accused of frightening batsmen with "Hitler intimidation tactics," writes the "Christian Science Monitor" Correspondent from Sydney.

The indictment is made in a letter O'Reilly has received from an Adelaide fan who watched, him route South Australia's team in the last big game of the season.

It should not be imagined from this that O'Reilly hurls the hard leather ball along with the blitzkrieg speed of Harold Larwood, one-time Nottingham terrorist, and makes a habit of trying to hit batsmen's legs or ribs. Because the velocity of his bowling is fairly gentle. It is classed as mediumslow.

The Adelaide complaint is based. an infielder. (the equivalent of flight O'Reilly persuades it an over-statement of the case; the 'predictable paces, and heights flelder was two yards away,

O'Reilly's demeanor is not that of a misdoer conscious of his guilt He has not even bothered to point out that the two umpires had power to intervene if the close fielder war obstructing strokemesements, but had no authority to stop the batsmen from attempting powerful hits to scars the intruder away to a safer distance. All the great bowler is doing about it is to add the letter to his collection of souvenirs.

GOLF'S HALL OF FAME

The Professional Golfers' Association is one of the finest professional sports organisations in the United States. It has done many excellent things for the advancement of that game in the U.S. It is made up of a great body of sportsmen and holds the respect of everyone connected with the game, writes a correspondent of the "Christian Science Monitor."

For some time there had been talk of creating a Hall of Fame! for golf. Baseball has one situated. at Cooperstown, NY, and many believed that golf was worthy of such an institution. It has seemed that the United States Golf Assoctation would be the organisation. which should establish it, but that organisation did not make any move along those lines.

Perpetuate Game

Happily, however, the P.G.A gave serious consideration to the proposition and decided to lautich the project. There are thousands who are glad that they took this step because there is no doubt that it will do much toward perpetuating the history of golf. Everyone who is interested in the game should now do all he can to make the institution a great suc-

That Augusta should have been picked as the location for the building was most appropriate. That is the city where the greatest non-championship tournament is held each year. This tournament not only draws the best amateur and professional players of the country, but also many enthusiasts. These fans are not good enough to play in a tournament like the Masters', but they enjoy golf fully as much as the experts. And when the building is completed and the exhibits are on display, that city probably will be visited by many golfers who would not have done so but for) the Hall of Fame,

In picking Bobby Jones, Francis Ouimet, Walter Hagen, and Gene-Sarazen the committee certainly made a fine beginning. Two amas teurs and two professionals, they are undoubtedry among the greatest the United States has verdeveloped. But this is only the beginning. As yet no women have been named, but they are to be included. And we venture to predict that the first one to be named will be Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare

Other Players

From now on the selecting of names is going to be harder. We doubt if any amateur or profess. sional will stand out in future years as did the four already selected. If they are to go back and pick some of those golfers who are not now in active competition, there are such builliant players as Chick Evans, Walter J. Travis, and Jeronie D Travers And as to present-day players who might well be considered worthy of the honour there are Ralph Guldahl, Byron Nelson, and Lawson Little, to mention only three.

Baseball's Hall of Fame has been very fortunate in having pictures and equipment connected with the game presented to it. It also has a number of trophies won by ball players. We have no doubt that such things connected with golf will in time find their

As their part in helping to win the war, scientists in the laboratories of the Imperial Institute are putting the Empire under the microscope. They are discovering new treasures in its soil and strange new uses for its known resources.

Government and industry, needing war materials or substitutes, constantly seek their aid. So to them come blocks of coral British Honduras, mud from seaweed from Malaya, penguin Faikland Islands, cinnamon bark oil from the Seychelles, and fragments of rock from Sierra Leone, Uganda, Burma and Guiana. Deeply these scienpigs' hair and honey, gums and thousand other raisins and specimens.

Any one of their researches may yield results of vital moment to the prosecution of the war, or a great industry may arise.

Sir Harry Lindsay, director of the Institute, has issued a report of many pages which, for all its formal language, is as romantic as the story of the voyages of Capt Cook.

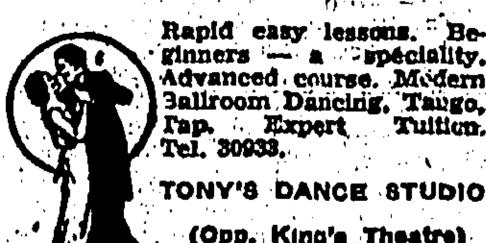

Investigations by the mineral resources department have resulted in a satisfactory expansion of inter-Empire trade and a substitution of supplies formerly bought from foreign and enemy countries. This department examined no fewer than 1,884 samples during the year, and its intelligence section answered 1,715 inquiries.

Because of the present shortage of certain drugs, the Institute has paid particular attention to the cultivation and preparation of medicinal plants growing in South Africa, Kenya and Southern and Northern Rhodesia.

It has introduced to interested firms tobacco grown in Jamaica and an oil, distilled from the leaves of a tree growing in Kenya, which may soon be used in soap perfumery.

One lump rock was sent from Eire. The finder thought it might contain cobalt. There was actually no large proportion of cobalt, but it was found to consist largely of copper ore, lead ore and, possibly, zinc ore, and it was considered that the deposit might be worth exploitation.

GUERILLAS TAKE TOLL IN YUGOSLAVIA

(By A "New York Times" Correspondent) THE SERBIAN GUERILLA komitajis are still holding out against the German and Italian armies in Yugoslavia, waging a bushwhacking war in the night against enemy stragglers, couriers and isolated patrols in the mountains of Montenegro and Central and South Serbia and within the environs of desolate Belgrade itself.

Despite the German and Italian concentrations of more than five divisions in North, South and Central Serbia, Macedonia and Dalmatia, the war goes on.

This correspondent, who alone time with the Yugoslav Governamong the journalists accom- ment and with Cetnik (komitaji) panied the former Yugoslav Gov- | leaders in Montenegro, Herzegoernment until its collapse follow- | vina and about Boka Kotorska in ing that of the general staff, wit- | Dalmatia until the flight of the nessed the flight of thousands of government to Greece and the de-Serblan and Montenegrin soldlers, parture of the Cetniks to the who carried with them huge mountains. quantities of ammunition and firearms, grenades, and even a few batteries of mountain guns into the mountains of Montenegro,

Serbia and Herzegovina,

These soldiers, who fled only when their government had flown to Greece by British and Yugoslav 'planes from Risanj Niksich, intended to join the komitajis and carry on their war to exact a last ounce of revenge against the invaders and maintain the apparently unquenchable spirit that inspired the coup of March 27, overthrowing the Cvetkovitch government, which surrendered as Vienna to the Axis.

Disorder Reigns

That Serbs are carrying on the war is specified in the disorder and disorganisation that reigns in Italian-dominated Albania and in the fighting after nightfall in -Serbia,

in Belgrade itself, where death is the penalty for venturing into the bomb-blasted city after 7 p.m., there is a daly mounting toll of German dead and wounded. There is a higher toll of Serbian lives each day in retaliation. for the Germans execute ten, sometimes twenty, for every German soldier killed, but that does not stop it. The Germans shoot without warning in Belgrade. A young woman was machine-gunned and riddled before the Brazilian Legation the night this correspondent returned from Dalmatia. Upon her back was chalked the time of her death: "8:15." As far as could be learned this woman was a harmless creature caught after deadline atop the Dedinje Hill en route to her home and running. She was unarmed.

The Germans, it seems, rarely get the Serbian komitajis who are nightly shooting or knifing every German who ventures away from the protection of hundreds of Nazi machine-gunners posted throughout the city at 7 o'clock.

Italians Woo In Vain

The Italians in the south-west do little shooting and are still valuly attempting to woo the Dalmatians and exiled Serbs into something like friendship with the troops of occupation. The socalled Croat Guard, attired in dark greenish-brown uniforms and carrying rifles and revolvers, carry out most of the police work after nightfall. The Croat Guard's weeding-out process of countless arrests and questionings, executions and imprisonments have so far failed to make a dent in the operations of the komitaji.

Now that Croat and Bosnian l fifth columnists have come out openly with the invaders there are no more of the fatal leakages that caused the Yugoslav Army an estimated 35,000 men and. when communications were shattered the first day of the war, led to the downfall of the government, the capitulation of the General Staff and the armistice.

LIFE QUEST TO FIND HIS PARENTS

At twenty-six, John Sandor has left his wife two children and Johnstown, Pennsylvania, and dedicated his life to finding the parents who left him in an orphanage as a baby.

He has started with a 1,500-mile tramping trip of the Middle West, during which he will question thousands of elderly couples in the hope that one might prove to be his father and mother whose name he does not know.

He bears the name of a foster father who adopted him when he left the orphanage at fifteen.

"All my life I've longed to know my mother," said Sandor. His wife fully consents to his quest. "He can know no peace until he 😁 sees his parents," she said.

government was fatal. The general staff failed next. Any army man will tell you a general staff cannot be built in a day; no, nor ten days, nor even a year. It was pushed through with o'd men, good enough in their day but senile to the point of absurdity when Germany struck us with the full power of her Blitzkrieg.

VINDSOR HOUSE

PLAN FOR SLAVERY

The German design for a new economic order in Europe is becoming c'earer. Its principal object is to ensure that the bulk of the European industries shall be in German hands, giving the Reich a virtual monopoly in the production of armaments. Where this can be obtained by incorporating existing industries on Germany's fringes the Reich will be expanded to include them. Farther affeld, all important industries, with the necessary deposits οſ materials, communications, ports, are to be brought under German financial control. What remains of industrial, equipments that might conceivably be converted into military strength must be adapted to German needs or i abolished Secondly, a privileged istandard of living is to be $\mathbf{e}_{\mathbf{n}+1}$ swed for the German population [In the conditions foreseen by the Nozis in the event of their victory. a great proportion of the German j output must be permanently withdrawn from civilian consumption! and reed to maintaining the! power to go to war. These are * the elements of a grand scheme of exploitation. Action already taken in the conquered territories, apparently precemeal and opportunist, closely follows the master plan . The meaning of these operations is PARLIAMENT recently devoted (well analysed in a recent Chatham. House "Bull-tin" It is pointed out that the political treatment meted out to the various countries overrun by the German armies differs | Secretary to the Ministry of according to their economic structure. The more highly industrialised a region is the closer It is being tied to the Reich Austria, Reith, on reconstruction and Sudetenland, with their important industries, have been incorporated outright Those parts of Czechoslovakia, which contain heavy, engineering, and chemical! industries were admitted into the Customs frontiers of the Reich, while agricultural Slovakia has remained outside. In Po'and almost the whole of the industrial region , has been annexed, including even the textile city of Lodz. In the west the annexation of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxemburg, with their iron and coal mines, their steel and textile industries, is obviously intended. Beyond these regions agents of German industries and banks are at work acquiring financial control of important undertakings. Counting only those parts which are now clearly marked out for annexation and leaving aside altogether the fate intended for Britain, the Greater German Reich would emerge from a victorious war as a highly industrialised State where some 40 per cent of the working population would be engaged in mining and Industry and less than 30 per cert in agriculture. It would be surrounded by wassal States, mainly agricultural, whose production would be controlled by German orders. No doubt longterm contracts at stable prices would bring some advantages to offset the certainty of extreme have already shown in their trading with South - eastern Europe, intend not only to buy cheap but to sell dear, and especially to sell only what they can easily spare. If one might summarise, Lord Reith recommends the extension of the Town Planning Acts, which cumber the Statute Books from 1909 onwards, to the whole country and he puts all under Government supervision.

One thing, however, he cannot do, and it is essential; though, as it deals with finance, it is not his immediate job.

The Town Planning Acts have not been a success. Not a single town in all the thirty years they have been in force has had an approved compulsory town-plan; they have all been held up by the question of compensation wherever buildings have to be built according to plan and whenever land value is thereby reduced.

Compensation is always unavoidable where there are demo-Therefore, if planned reconstruction is to be made possible, the first essential step is that there should be a universal valuation of lands and buildings separately. Otherwise the cost will exceed all possibility of payment. And the valuation should be commenced now, so as to be ready for reconstruction.

The committee which Lord Reith has set up to examine the question of compensation bombed sites, with a view to stopping land speculations, will, it is hoped, point out the necessity for such separate valuation.

of land rent which brought Wren's plan to naught; and unless we attack land monopoly radically, we shall never be able to rebuild a replanned City.

To show what it costs when it comes to paying compensation for land values, the case of Charing Cross Bridge may be recalled, The scheme for the building of the much-needed bridge was abandoned in 1930 on account of the expense, which was estimated at £16,865,000.

Of this sum, £11,122,000 was to go on land purchase and compensation for easement and permanent rights—all representing land values.

The cost of the bridge itself, including the pulling down of the buildings, the construction of approaches, alteration of the Embankment and other improveat only ments, was estimated £5,743,000.

Had the bridge been built, the improvements would have enhanced the value of all the land in the vicinity, so that all the adjoining landowners would have benefitted still more. And land values are much lower at Charing Cross than in the City.

The only remedy is to tax land on its value, and use the money so raised to remove the rates from enable us to do the new buildings buildings, and reduce the general taxation for the benefit of all. The people make the land value: Wren, after the Great Fire, put they should recover the benefit magnitude is not understood by technical superiority. This has those who still oppose the full been made plain by expert emp'oyment of our Navy," he de- writers. clared. "This is the threat which calls for early and drastic action.

PRESIDENT JAMES B. CONANT of Harvard, speaking over a nation-wide radio hook-up on the subject "When Shall America Fight?" declared that "considering only the best interests of a free United States, the hour for action is at hand," and bluntly answering the question put by the title of his address, said "I believe we should fight now."

Discounting the likelihood "that the English island will be immediately overrun," the Harvard president said the blockade by the German U-boats, raiders and air force has been "all too effective; more damaging perhaps that we have yet been told."

"Our best hope of avoiding a later battle against desperate odds is to become a naval belligerent now. It is not too late. But the hour for action has clearly struck. I believe the nation is ready to join the fight for freedom."

Conant was his first call for actual belligerency, although, as he overwhelming weight of numbers. pointed out in his address, he has been "one of those who have persistently advocated this nation's steps necessary to the steps necessar powers-all steps, not excluding brings with it the power of large belligerency." As recently as late last week he said that the hour for action was "nearly" at hand,

He again expressed himself as "amazed" by the point of view! that the war may be ended in a! negotiated beace, and declared that "no British Government that could possibly come to power will make peace with Hitler." The people of Britain, he continued, realise that "such a peace would" mean the eventual enslavement

The contention that, even without a negotiated peace, the war will soon be over and "we suffering and still stay free. have only to stand aside and let England be overrun," he denounced as "a black counsel of despair."

"Leaving aside the question of whether or not such an attitude does credit to the spirit of a free and self-respecting nation." he continued, "I believe the basis of the argument to be wrong. It is founded on the assumption that we would let England fall, the British fleet surrender, and make no move.

"Let us imagine that, after a sudden display of technical as well as numerical superiority in the air, the Germans do succeed in finally invading England. To be sure, this seems to me an extremely remote possibility.

"Or alternatively let us imagine that the blockade, after another six months, has reduced Great Britain's military effectiveness to the point where invasion becomes possible. This contingency is not remote. In either case wou'd the United States then take the view that the subsequent history of the war was no affair of ours?"

Sentiment Of People

Polls, he continued, have shown that the country is overwhelmingly in favour of having the country become a naval belligerent rather than let the British lose.

"The conclusion seems to me inevitable," he said. "Unless we are willing to yield control of this hemisphere to the Axis powers, this country must sooner or later fight. Unless the United States is prepared to shape its philosophy to that of the totalitarian States through a pact of mutual understanding, we shall eventually be forced to defend our freedom by acts of war. The isolationists are living in a world of wishful thinking when they imagine the struggle may soon be over."

Giving some hints of what he had learned in England, the Harvard head said "a successful invasion of Great Britain in my opinion would not terminate the struggle, but rather remove the action to our shores."; Then he went on to outline the chances for ultimate victory.

"I am arguing for immediate action, Whatever course we take, we face bitter days ahead. Terrible and devastating as war is, slavery and national degradation are worse evils. Would Quench "Evil Fire"

"We long for an opportunity peacefully to develop still further the implications of the fundamental philosophy of our nation. But can peace for a free country be maintained in the present world without a struggle? Already we can feel the withering heat of the Nazi tyranny across the seas. Until the source of this evil fire is quenched, no free people can prosper or endure.

"Shall we take up arms and defend our independence in this hemisphere, the basis of our free institutions, of our way of life? Or shall we bow timidly before the on-rush of a foreign power which spurns and ridicules every moral principle we hold dear? I have no question of the final answer nor the final outcome of the battle. Once the American people come to grips with the Issue which confronts them, I have no question as to the unity of this land.

"in my opinion, strategy domands we fight to-morrow, honour and self-interest that we fight before the British Isles are lost. But whether we fight tomorrow or on a later day, we shall before long close our ranks and fight to win."

ITALIANS TURNED GUNS ON WOUNDED

(By A Special Correspondent) AN OFFICER AND A DRIVER FROM SOUTH WALES WERE BADLY INJURED IN 20 MINUTES OF THE MOST DESPERATE FIGHTING I AM EVER LIKELY TO SEE.

Alexander Clifford, of the "Daily Mail," and myself, the only uninjured men in our party, were just able to bind the men's wounds and crawl with them to safety. Others were killed, and half a dozen injured in the same action.

By now the fine of cars and trucks was blazing, and although they could see Clifford and trying to bind up the wounded men, the Italians deliberately turned all their fire on us.

We dragged the driver into a bush, and the conducting officer, who continued directing us despite his wound, followed. Then, forcing the driver to his feet-he was in great pain we crouched and dodged from bush to bush.

You must drink glasses of water between meals and none with your meals. You must make yourself bop out of bed early in the morning, quickly go through your chorning tasks, and then devote an hour or more to exercising on The mat

During a general reducing programme it is best to add a new hobby or new tasks to your daily routine This takes your mind off yourself you will not want to cat to often or he down to rest if you have something which keeps: you busy and interested.

In old times, women used to massage their busts with equal parts of alcohol and camphor but I doubt if noticeable shrinkage can be thus acquired.

The best means seems to be exercise. Here are two which may be practiced daily:

1—Stand erect, heels together, clasping hands behind neck. Forcibly push elbows back and shoulder-blades together. Relax and repeat ten times.

2—Stand erect and raise both hands overhead. Bend upper part of body back as far as possible as you inhale. Return to erect position as you exhale. Repeat twenty

TAIKOO WORKERS RUSHFERRY

FIFTY CHINESE, DESCRIBED AS PAINTERS AND CARPEN-TERS OF TAIKOO DOCKS. WERE CHARGED BEFORE MR. H. G. SHELDON, K. C., ON SATURDAY WITH ATTEMPT-ING TO EVADE PAYMENT OF FERRY FARE, AT THE SAI WAN HO FERRY WHARF

Forty-nine defendants appeared, three denying the charge. One who fared to attend had his bail of $10 estreated,

According to Sgt, Kinlock, there had been several complaints about men rushing on to Sai Wan Ho terry wharf, every day between 5 pm and 5.45 pm, stampeding through the gate without paying the fare.

The Police were summoned on Friday afternoon, and fifty workmen were taken into custody, after they had rushed the gate.

Forty-six were fined $1 each. Three who pleaded not guilty were remanded until Monday.

The Magistrate warned them, that he would send them to prison if they appeared before him again.

AUSTRALIAN WOOL SUPPLY

Australia is to supply India with 400,000 lb. of woollen yarn. The order was placed through the Eastern Group Supply Council to assist Indian industries.

An a statement on Saturday Su Bertram Stevens, Aus rahan representative on the Supply Council in Simila, said "The yarn posttion is fundimental to the whole textile position in the Eastern Group

"Unless we can guarantee supplies of yarn the Indian woollen and textile industries will be placed in a very difficult position, with the probable result that many plants will be closed down." - Reuter.

Further increases in Britain's fire-fighting services were announced by the Home Secretary. Mr. Herbert Moreison.

In addition to 8,000 new fire fighters already called up, another 8,000 would be enrolled by the end of next month.

Total cost of new fire-fighting measures was £6,000,000, of which equipment accounted for £1,000,000. The fire-fighting services had altogether cost £27,000,000.--Reuter.

BURIED LAY 36 HOURS

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD Mary Flynn smiled from her hospital bed as she told how she lay buried under the wreckage of her home for thirty-six hours.

Rescue work was going on among some Liverpool tenement houses which had been demolished when a chi'dish voice was heard calling, "I'm her." The voice i came from beneath a mass of concrete and girders, and the childcould not be seen until some of the wreckage had been scraped

Then Mary's face came into view and with a cheery grin she said: "I was not frightened. I knew you would find me. I haven't cried, have 1?"

Aided by Father Doyle, a Roman Catholic priest, rescuers worked to release the child

CRICKET'S GREATEST TACTICS OF HITIFR ACCUSED

WILLIAM J. O'REILLY, world's greatest cricket bowler, stands accused of frightening batsmen with "Hitler intimidation tactics," writes the "Christian Science Monitor" Correspondent from Sydney.

The indictment is made in a letter O'Reilly has received from an Adelaide fan who watched him route South Australia's team in the last big game of the season.

It should not be imagined from this that ()'Reilly hurls the hard leather ball along with the blitzkrieg speed of Harold Larwood, one-time Nottingham terrorist, and makes a habit of trying to hit batsmen's legs or ribs. Because the velocity of his bowling is fairly gentle. It is classed as mediumslow.

The Adelaide complaint is based. In addition to making the ball on a charge that O'Reilly place, swerve, pause, float, or dip in its an infielder (the equivalent of flight, O'Reilly persuades it to baseball's third baseman) within turn to either side from the an over-statement of the case, the predictable paces, and heights fielder was two yards away,

O'Reilly's demeanor is not that of a misdoer conscious of his guilt He has not even bothered to point out that the two umpires had power to intervene if the close fielder was obstructing strokemovements, but had no authority to stop the batsmen from attempting powerful hits to seare the intruder away to a safer distance. All the great bowler is doing about it is to add the letter to his collection of souvenirs.

Nicknamed "Tiger"

We don't know what Hitler's nickname in the Wilhelmstrasse is, but O'Reilly's is "Tiger," because of his unflagging determination and the way he "disguises fair nature with hard-favoured rage" in the manner King Henry V advised at Harfleur.

No one looks less like Der Fuehrer. The man who has brought down the British Empire's best batsmen is taller than 6 ft., has sandy hair, doesn't keep his top lip in partial ambush, and weighs 203 pounds,

But he relentlessly blockades: batsmen into subjection, and bellows appeals to the umpire for justice when a leg, instead of a innocence, he asked an unresponsive umpire: "Where's your dog?", The umpire said he owned no dog, "Well," said O'Reilly, "you're the first blind man I've seen without one "

As O'Reilly lopes rhythmically to the bowling crease-line, he swings his simian-length right arm like a pendulum, with the! wrist crooked. He drags his fingers across the ball, as it leaves his hand, to give it one of the spins that keep the batsmen guessing.

Spins From Ground

You correspondent recalls one American visitor's surprise at finding that, in cricket, the ball is thrown on the ground, not as a gesture of pique, but as an integral feature of the game. What the West Ham B.C., has been the ball does as it bounces makes specially commended by the it much more difficult to hit than R.S.P.C.A. for his work in rescuwhen it comes direct through the ing animals during a particularly wendy 16.45 27 air.

one yard of the batemen. This is ground or go straight on, at unanywhere between hip and midshin. He is 35, but is likely to be still in the front rank when peace. brings resumption of international Home on Saturday.

> Now an Army physical instructor, Lieut. Don Bradman, world record scorer, batted only four times in big matches. Twice he was caught out first ball, an unprecedented calamity which caused a greater buzz in Australia than anything Mr. Matsuoka has said, to time of writing.

Outstanding batsman of the season is Sid Barnes, 23, selfguickfooted, and I possessed, compactly-built. He scored 1,050 runs in 14 innings. In six innings, Barnes made 100 or more-a tally | City 6, Bolton Wanderers 4; York which usually takes him about | City 2. Middlesborough 4; Chester 21/4 hours' batting.

Score-Box Excitement

To the uninitiated, cricket rivals chess for protracted duliness, but those who understand its ritual believe it is crammed with a wider variety of incident than any other sport.

Score-keepers at an O'Farrell Cup match became so excited that they forgot to pencil down a boundary hit which would have bat, is used to keep the ball from given Junea victory by one run the stumps. Once, with affected over Wagga. Before the omission was discovered the players had left the ground. A replay has been Suggested.

So far this war, amateur boxing has collected a V.C. - Sergeant Harry Nicholls - and two D.F.C.s. Recently I heard of another award for gallantry finding its way to a "punching for pleasure" representative, writes L. V. Manning.

GOLF'S HALL OFFAME

The Professional Golfers' Association is one of the finest professional sports organisations in the United States. It has done many excellent things for the advancement of that game in the U.S. It is made up of a great body of sportsmen and holds the respect of everyone connected with the game, writes a correspondent of the "Christian Science Monitor."

way into that sport's Hall

and future generations

For some time there had been talk of creating a Hall of Fame! for golf. Baseball has one situated at Cooperstown, N.Y., and many believed that golf was worthy of such an institution. It has seemed that the United States Golf Assocution would be the organisation which should establish it, but that organisation did not make any move along those lines.

Perpetuate Game

Happily, however, the P.G.A gave serious consideration to the proposition and decided to Jaunch the project. There are thousand who are glad that they took this step because there is no doubt that it will do much toward perpetuating the history of golf Everyone who is interested in the game should now do all he can to make the institution a great suc-

That Augusta should have been picked as the location for the building was most appropriate That is the city where the greatest non-championship tournament is held each year. This tournament not only draws the best amateur and professional players of the country, but also many enthusiasts. These fans are not good enough to play in a tournament like the Masters', but they enjoy golf fully as much as the experts. And when the building is completed and the exhibits are j on display, that city probably will [be visited by many golfers who would not have done so but for the Hall of Fame,

In picking Bobby Jones, Francis Otimet, Walter Hagen, and Gene Sarazen the committee certainly made a fine beginning. Two amateurs and two professionals, they are undoubtedly among the greatest the United States has yet developed. But this is only the beginning. As yet no women have been named, but they are to be included. And we venture to predict that the first one to be named | will be Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare

. From now on the selecting of names is going to be harder. We doubt if any amateur or professi sional will stand out in future years as did the four already selected. It they are to go back and pick some of those golfers who are not now in active competition, there are such brilliant players as Chick Evans, Walter J. Traves, and Jerome D Travers And as to present-day players who might well be considered worthy of the honour there are Ralph Guldahl, Byron Nelson, and Lawson Little, to mention only three.

Baseball's Hall of Fame has been very fortunate in having pictures and equipment connected with the game presented to it. It also has a number of trophles won by ball players. We have no doubt that such things connected with golf will in time find their

(SPECIAL TO "CHINA MAIL")

The sinking of H.M.S. - Hood has inspired Berlin quarters to their greatest flights of fancy for many months.

Murder Raids On Main Towns

ONE OF THE MOST FEROCIOUS DIS-PLAYS OF INDISCRIMINATE BOMBING THE WAR HAS YET PRODUCED, AND COMPAR-ABLE TO THE DESTRUCTION OF ROTTER-DAM, WAS CARRIED OUT ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON BY GERMAN AIRCRAFT OVER CRETE.

Waves of aircraft rained down heavy bombs on the island's three chief towns, Canea, Retimo and Heraklion (Candia), for six hours without any pause, from 2 o'clock to 8 in the evening.

These heavy bombs were sown carefully in rows across the centres of | each town. The shopping prived of French nationality centres were completely wiped out.

Yet the population remained admirably calm and there were relatively few casualties.

GUERILLAS TAKETOLL YUGOSLAVIA

(By A. "New York Times" Correspondent) THE SERBIAN GUERILLA komitajis are still holding out against the German and Italian armies in Yugoslavia, waging a bushwhacking war in the night against enemy stragglers, couriers and isolated patrols in the mountains of Montenegro and Central and South Serbia and within the environs of desolate Belgrade itself.

Despite the German and Italian concentrations of more than five divisions in North, South and Central Serbia, Macedonia and Dalmatia, the war goes on.

This correspondent, who alone time with the Yugoslav Governnessed the flight of thousands of government to Greece and the dewho carried with them huge mountains, quantities of ammunition and firearms, grenades, and even a few Serbia and Herzegovina, when their government had flown to Greece by British and Yugostay 'planes from Risanj Niksich, i Risanj Pass. intended to join the komitajis and carry on their war to exact a last ounce of revenge against the invaders and maintain the apparently unquenchable spirit that in-| spired the coup of March 27, overthrowing the Cvetkovitch government, which surrendered at Vienna to the Axis.

Disorder Reigns

That Serbs are carrying on the war is specified in the disorder and disorganisation that reigns in Italian-dominated Albania and in the fighting after nightfall in Serbia,

In Belgrade itself, where death is the penalty for venturing into the bomb-blasted city after 7 p.m., there is a dally mounting toll of German dead and wounded.

There is a higher toll of Serbran lives each day in retaliation. for the Germans execute ten, sometimes twenty, for every German soldier killed, but that does not stop it.

The Germans shoot without warning in Belgrade. A young woman was machine-gunned and riddled before the Brazilian Legation the night this correspondent returned from Dalmatia. Upon her back was chalked the time of her death: "8:15." As far as could be learned this woman was a harmless creature caught after deadline atop the Dedinje Hill en route to her home and running. She was unarmed.

PLAN FOR SLAVERY

The German design for a new económic order in Europe is becoming clearer. Its principal object is to ensure that the bulk of the European industries shall be in German hands, giving the Reich a virtual monopoly in the production of armaments. Where this can be obtained by incorporating existing industries on Germany's fringes the Reich will be expanded to include them. Farther affold, all important industries, with the deposits necessary materia's, communications, and ports, are to be brought under German financial control. What! remains of industrial equipment that might concernably be converted into military strength must: be adapted to German needs or abolished Secondly, a privileged, standard of living is to be en- , sured for the German population. In the conditions foreseen by the Nozis in the event of their victory. a great proportion of the German ou put must be permanent. The deficiency I is to be made up to the Germansi through favourable terms of forcum trade Food and raw; modernals from other countries in! Europe, relegated to agricultural status, would be imported at prices dictated by Germany With full control of the Continent's i trade with the outside world Germany would be able to impose its own terms almost equally [well on the producers of primary commodities overseas. These are the elements of a grand scheme of exploitation,

Action already taken in the conquered territories, apparently precement and opportunist, closely follows the master plan. The meaning of these operations is PARLIAMENT recently devoted a well analysed in a recent Chatham House "Bulletin" It is pointed out that the political treatment meted out to the various countries overrun by the German armies differs according to their economic struc- | Works and Buildings. ture. In Poland almost the whole of the industrial region! has been annexed, including even the textile city of Lodz. In the west the annexation of Alsace-Lorraine and Luxemburg, with their iron and coal mines, their steel and textile industries, is obviously intended, Beyond these regions agents of German indusor s and banks are at work acquiring financial control of important undertakings, Counting only those parts which are now clearly marked out for annexation and leaving aside altogether the fate intended for Britain, the Greater German Reich would emerge from a victorious war as a highly industrialised State where some 40 per cent of the working population would be engaged in mining and industry and less than 30 per cert in agriculture. It would be surrounded by vassal States, mainly agricultural, whose production would be controlled by German orders. Mr. Hicks's speech did not differ essentially from the report vecently made by his chief, Lord Reith, on reconstruction

If one might summarise, Lord portant industries, have been in-| Reith recommends the extension of the Town Planning Acts, which cumber the Statute Books from 1909 onwards, to the whole country and he puts all under Gove ernment supervision.

One thing, however, he cannot do, and it is essential; though, as it deals with finance, it is not his immediate Job.

The Town Planning Acts have not been a success. Not a single town in all the thirty years they have been in force has had an approved compulsory town-plan; they have all been held up by the question of compensation wherever buildings have to be built according to plan and whenever land value is thereby reduced.

Compensation is always unavoidable where there are demolitions. Therefore, if planned reconstruction is to be made possible, the first essential step is that there should be a universal valuation of lands and buildings separately. Otherwise the cost will exceed all possibility of payment. And the valuation should be commenced now, so as to be ready for reconstruction.

The committee which Lord Reith has set up to examine the question of compensation bombed sites, with a view to stopping land speculations, will, it is hoped, point out the necessity for tion for those people who owned these ruined sites. Alderman Hodgkinson, the Labour chairman of Coventry's Redevelopment Committee, has shown the way to solve that problem, "Socialise the Land," he declares. Once that has been done, the town-planning scheme can go ahead.

This is the crux of the problem "Socialisation if we can get 45 sterilisation if we can't."

The destruction wrought by |Hitler's bombers in London will not be all evil if we grasp the opportunity to build a better more noble, and spacious city to replace the one so horribly scarred.

The narrow and congested streets, the dark sunless lanes, alleys, must give way to wide and unimpeded thoroughfares to relieve traffic congestion, and enable us to do the new buildings and such monumental works as St. Paul's in proper perspective.

Wren, after the Great Pire, put forward a plan with two streets, of it. 90 foot wide, one with two piazzas on the way, to converge on the Cathedral, but the plan was never carried out.

of land rent which brought Wren's plan to naught; and unless we attack land monopoly radically. we shall never be able to rebuild a replanned City.

To show what it costs when it comes to paying compensation for [land values, the case of Charing Cross Bridge may be recalled.

The scheme for the building of the much-needed bridge was abandoned in 1980 on account of the expense, which was estimated at £16,865,000.

Of this sum, £41,122,000 was to go on land purchase and compensation for casement and permanent rights all representing land values

The cost of the bridge itself, E including the pulling down of the buildings, the construction of approaches, alteration of the Embankment and other improvements, was estimated at only £5,743,000.

Had the bridge been built, the improvements would have enhanced the value of all the land [🖪 in the vicinity, so that all the adjoining landowners would have benefitted still more. And land values are much lower at Charing Cross than in the City.

The only remedy is to tax land on its value, and use the money so raised to remove the rates from buildings, and reduce the general taxation for the benefit of all. The people make the land value; they should recover the benefit

But how would this affect the question of compensation? In this way.

First: the effect of a tax on land values is to reduce the capital h value of land in proportion to the

PRESIDENT JAMES B. CONANT of Harvard, speaking over a nation-wide radio hook-up on the subject "When Shall America Fight?" declared that "considering only the best interests of a free United States, the hour for action is at hand," and bluntly answering the question put by the title of his address, said "I believe we should fight now."

Discounting the likelihood "that the English island will be immediately overrun," the Harvard president said the blockade by the German U-boats, raiders and air force has been "all too effective; more damaging perhaps that we have yet been told."

The people of Britain, he continued. realise that "such a peace would mean the eventual enslavement of every man, woman and child,'

The contention that, even without a negotiated peace, the war will soon be over and "we have only to stand aside and let England be overrun." he denounced as "a black counsel of despair."

"Leaving aside the question of whether or not such an attitude does credit to the spirit of a free and self-respecting nation," he continued, "I believe the basis of the argument to be wrong. It is founded on the assumption that we would let England fall, the British fleet surrender, and make no move.

"Let us imagine that, after a sudden display of technical as well as numerical superiority in the air, the Germans do succeed in finally invading England. To be sure, this seems to me an extremely remote possibility.

"Or alternatively let us imagine that the blockade, after another six months, has reduced Great Britain's military effectiveness to the point where invasion becomes possible. This contingency is not remote. In either case would the United States then take the view that the subsequent history of the war was no affair of ours?"

Sentiment Of People

Polls, he continued, have shown that the country is overwhelmingly in favour of having the country become a naval belligerent rather than let the British lose.

"The conclusion seems to me inevitab'e," he said. "Unless we are willing to yield control of this fight. Unless the United States is prepared to shape its philosophy to that of the totalitarian States through a pact of mutual understanding, we shall eventually be forced to defend our freedom by acts of war. The isolationists are living in a world of wishful thinking when they imagine the struggle may soon be over.

Giving some hints of what he had learned in England, the Hare vard head said "a successful invasion of Great Britain in my opinion would not terminate the struggle, but rather remove the action to our shores." Then he went on to outline the chances for ultimate victory.

ADMIRALTY'S TIGHT SILENCE ON PURSUIT

(SPECIAL TO "CHINA MAIL")

ALL BRITAIN, STUNNED AND SADDENED BY THE LOSS OF H.M.S. HOOD, IS TENSELY AWAITING NEWS OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC NAVAL SQUADRON WHICH IS TRYING TO FORCE THE FLEEING GERMAN SQUADRON INTO AN ENGAGEMENT AT CLOSE QUARTERS.

While the Admiralty is maintaining a tight silence on developments which followed the sinking of Hood, beyond a brief communique announcing a hit by an aerial torpedo on an enemy warship, it seems likely that the British squadron (which may or may not include a capital ship) is shadowing the fleeing German ships.

Aim would seem to be to keep the German vessels in sight until the latter can be engaged by major British units from Scapa Flow or some other British base.

The Nazi warships, which consist of the damaged B smarck, several cruisers, destroyers and lighter cruft, are now trying to return to their base, presumably in Norway, by way of the Arctic waters north of Britain

While the huge expanse of sea and the poor weather conditions in these waters will make intercention difficult, there is a possibility of the German ships being brought to action and destroyed before they can reach the safety of their own waters.

If that were the case, at would be fatal to play the King, for West would take the Ace and return the suit through dummy's den, and South would lose three heart tricks. But if East had the Jack of hearts as well as the Queen, South—could—make his contract by playing a low heart. For then if East continued with the Jack, South would play the King, thereby setting up dummy's ten or winning that trick at once; and if East continued with a lowheart, South could play low, and dummy's ten would force West to put up the Ace, South therefore played a low heart, and there went his contract! East continued with a low heart, and West took two more heart tricks.

PORTUGAL WOLFRAM

A "wolframite rush" is sweeping Portugal, Thousands of pensants are deserting their cabbage gardens and little farms for the hills where they are engaging in a fury of mining like the fortyniners of California.

Wolframite is the chief ore of tungsten used in high speed tools and munitions making.

Despite a warning by the Government, which fear crops will suffer, hundreds of North Portugal peasants have joined the rush from the villages of Borralha, Campo de Gales, Tarouca, Via de Aguiar Alva, Castro Daires, and Codicoso.

A PAGE FOR WOMEN Woman And Weight

The early bird is likely to have a slimmer figure than her lazy sister who drowses half the morning in bed so statistics show. For better health, steady health and figure slimbess a woman should get out of bed not later than seven o'e'ock - If she can plan to get to bed by eleven or earlier she should get up about six o'clock if she wants to look vitally fresh and keep slim

If you are overweight and have determined to slim as quickly as you can, you must adopt a general reducing programme. Starying yourself to death is no uses the weight will come right back to you the minute you again satisfy your normal appetite must gradually reduce your measurements through exercise as you gradually reduce your menus. You must also get out-of-doors every day for a long walk. You · must drink glasses of water between meals and none with your meals. You must make yourself hop out of bed early in the morning quickly go through your morning tasks, and then devote an hour or more to exercising on the mat

During a general reducing purgramme it is best to add a new hobby or new tasks to your daily routine. This takes your mind off yourself you will not want to eat so often or he down to rest if you have something which keeps you busy and interested.

Good Time To Begin

This weather is a grand time to begin reducing if you have failed to streamline before the season dawned. You certainly do want to has great compensations.

LONDON'S TRANSPORT 'TROOPERS'

Each of the 78,000 bus and subway drivers, conductors, clerks and others employed by the London Passenger Transport Board is a "shock trooper" in the embattled British capital.

The Transport Board, as is the case with main-line railways throughout Britain, has been controlled by the Government since the beginning of the wor. It has been responsible for the evacuation of 607,000 children from the City without a single mishap, and for the provision of accommodation for 124,000 persons in subways and other deep air-raid shelters, according to the Board's Footbow Her life had been saved by a D W. Of the 78,000, only 72 men employees serving in the armed forces have been killed on active service. On the other hand, 116 of the men and women employees! who stayed behind have been i killed through enemy action on the job, some 300 others have been injured.

Often during tense elect periods and sometimes even through actual air raids, they find themselves in streets where debris, demolition activity and unexploded time-bombs necessitate constant diversion of traffic. Yet these workers have given their leisure time to organising special home

EQUALITY PROBLEM THE CHURCH

In its effort for a more equal distribution in the national ecomorny, the recent reform discussion under the Archbishop of York at Malvern came up against some stiff problems within the Church of England itself.

One of these problems was in regard to the strange discrepancies in the remuneration of clergy. men. An example is cited of the vicar of a parish of 200 persons receiving £700 a year emolument, while another vicar in a parish of 10,000 was receiving a stipend of only £300.

GREATEST CRICKET'S TACTICS ACCUSED NF

WILLIAM J. O'REILLY, world's greatest cricket bowler, stands accused of frightening batsmen with "Hitler intimidation tactics," writes the "Christian Science Monitor" Correspondent from Sydney.

The indictment is made in a letter O'Reilly has received from an Adelaide fan who watched him route South Australia's team in the last big game of the season.

It should not be imagined from this that O'Reilly hurls the hard leather ball along with the blitzkrieg speed of Harold Larwood, one-time Nottingham terrorist, and makes a habit of trying to hit batsmen's legs or ribs. Because the velocity of his bowling is fairly gentle. It is classed as mediumslow.

This tournament not only draws the best amateur and professional players l of the country, but also many enthusiasts. These fans are not 🕳 good enough to play in a tournament like the Masters', but they enjoy golf fully as much as the experts. And when the building *is completed and the exhibits are on display, that city probably will be visited by many golfers who would not have done so but for the Hall of Fame.

In picking Bobby Jones, Francis Ouimet, Walter Hagen, and Gene-Sarazen the committee certainly made a fine beginning.
